

Beat: News

Let Us Commit Ourselves To The Noble Task ... of Child Rights Everywhere

President of India

New Delhi, India, 11.12.2016, 18:04 Time

USPA NEWS - Let Us Commit Ourselves To The Noble Task Of Fulfilment And Protection Of Child Rights Everywhere: President

The President, Mr. Pranab Mukherjee at the opening session of the first ever “‘Laureates and Leaders for Children Summit’, at Rashtrapati Bhavan, in New Delhi on December 10, 2016.

The President of India, Mr. Pranab Mukherjee addressed the opening session of the first ever “Laureates and Leaders for Children Summit” at Rashtrapati Bhavan on Dec 10.

Speaking on the occasion, the President said that problems of varying degree afflicts children ““ from the seemingly less severe like bullying at school to cases of sexual harassment, child marriage and trafficking. Children are also denied education in several parts of the world.

They are still suffering from malnutrition and are dying of preventable diseases. According to UNICEF, 80 percent of child deaths occur in South Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa. In regions marred by armed conflicts, violence and insurgencies, children are the most affected. There are many children amongst refugees who face an uncertain future.

he President said that programmes and actions for children have to take centre-stage in national policy-making. We have a shared responsibility to reduce the inequalities that harm the underprivileged children more than any other age group. The path towards an equal future will come through prioritizing.

The disparities in education, health and poverty indicators will have to be eliminated. The factors hampering the progress of disadvantaged children will have to be removed. We, indeed, have a moral obligation towards our children; towards their development and security, and in giving them equal opportunity. Let us commit ourselves to the noble task of fulfilment and protection of child rights everywhere.

The President said that our children will inherit a world that we would devolve them. It is our responsibility to ensure that such a world is a better place than what we were given. Exploitation of resources and degradation of the environment is posing a serious challenge to sustainable development. It is manifested in the ill-effects of climate change. Developing economies, which are closely tied to climate-sensitive sectors like agriculture and forestry, are more vulnerable to climate change.

HH Dalai Lama, HSH Princess Charlene of Monaco, HRH Prince Ali Bin Al Hussein of Jordan, HRH Princess Laurentien of The Netherlands, UNESCO Special Envoy on Literacy for Development and HE Jose Ramos-Horta, Former President of Timore-Leste and Nobel Peace Laureate also addressed the gathering on the occasion.

The two-day Summit organized by the Kailash Satyarthi Children’s Foundation will deliberate on the way forward in building a strong moral platform for protecting children from violence, and ensuring a world where children are free to be just children.

Article online:

<https://www.uspa24.com/bericht-10244/let-us-commit-ourselves-to-the-noble-task-of-child-rights-everywhere.html>

Editorial office and responsibility:

V.i.S.d.P. & Sect. 6 MDSstV (German Interstate Media Services Agreement): Doruvu Paul Jagan Babu

Exemption from liability:

The publisher shall assume no liability for the accuracy or completeness of the published report and is merely providing space for the submission of and access to third-party content. Liability for the content of a report lies solely with the author of such report. Doruvu Paul Jagan Babu

Editorial program service of General News Agency:

United Press Association, Inc.
3651 Lindell Road, Suite D168
Las Vegas, NV 89103, USA
(702) 943.0321 Local
(702) 943.0233 Facsimile
info@unitedpressassociation.org
info@gna24.com
www.gna24.com